THE TIMES-GAZETTE, REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1945 ESTABLISHED IN 1859

San Carlos Councilman Vote, Mar. 20

San Carlos prepared today for a special election to name a member to the city council, replacing Roy Gover, who resigned last month.

After the council had tried for three meetings to find a successor to Gover, only to wind up in a two-to-two deadlock every time, a special caucus was held Monday night at the city hall, and the council voted to hold a special ballot Mar. 20.

It was decided by the council that there will be no general election, and that the polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Candidates for the office remain anybody's guess.

Charles Thomas, past president of the San Carlos Athletic club and member of the recreation commission, was nominated for the office at the three past council meetings which resulted in a deadlock.

Thomas is an official of the Bank of San Francisco.

Also repeatedly nominated has been Bruce Allen, member of the board of directors of the San Carlos Progressive Taxpayer's League and vice president of the San Carlos American Legion Post. Allen is an insurance broker in San Francisco.

Also nominated for the office at the last regular meeting and rejected was Harvey P. Carlson, who ran last spring on the Progressive ticket. Altogether 11 candidates were voted upon at the last meeting.

Nominations must be filed within 30 days.

Applications for working on the election board will be received up to Jan. 24. City Clerk Beatrice Roberts said.

Ray Parton appeared before the council to make an application to haul some rocks from the west end of Brittan Ave. to the new airport. The matter was referred to the planning commission.

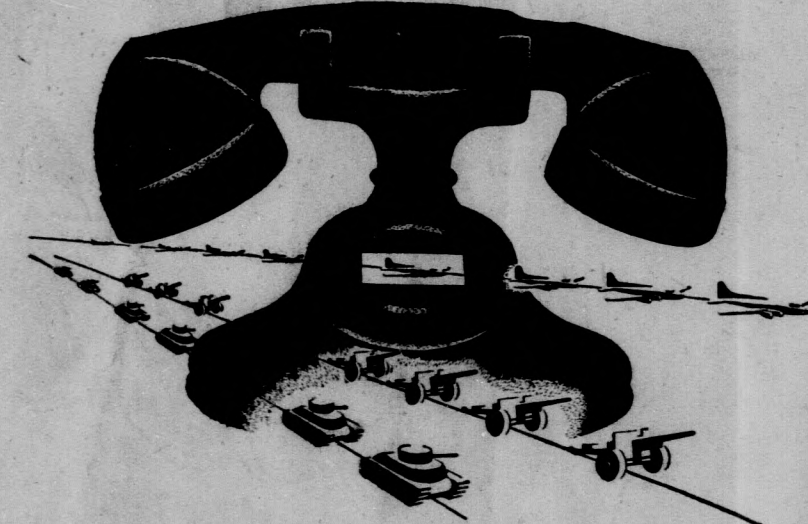

Mayor A. H. Sagehorn and Councilmen Patrick J. Kearns, E. I. Burton and Truman S. Waterman were all present.

Redwood City Boosts 1945 Red Cross Quota

Recent developments in the war have necessitated raising Redwood City's Red Cross quota $3000 to the present total of $50,000. Mrs. William Baxter, war fund chairman said today. The national quota has been increased to $140,000,000 from $120,000,000, she added.

Bay Area Meat Shortage Grows As Additional Butcher Shops Close

Small meat deliveries, enough to appease a few customers, continued to arrive at the larger Redwood City markets as the critical meat shortage gripping the entire Bay Area swung into its second week. Poultry was plentiful at most stores but meat stocks at nearly every local store were practically depleted.

by butchers on hesitancy of slaughtering to accept a new OPA livestock ceiling and on heavy military and civilian demands.

The stock-on-hand situation in San Francisco's 500 butcher shops was acute; one of Oakland's largest meat suppliers—Golden West Meat Co.—shut down, forcing 56 customer shops to suspend sales.

As the pinch continued, Milton Maxwell, international vice president of the butchers union, announced this week a conference of jobbers, cutters and commercial buyers would be held to discuss the "crisis."

He said packers are unwilling to accept the financial loss they claim each kill costs them under OPA regulations.

A new OPA price schedule increasing the price of cattle from $16.50 to $18 per hundredweight scheduled to go into effect Jan. 23. With cut meat ceiling prices already fixed, this price increase will do nothing to make better "an already bad situation," he said.

However district OPA Director Robert B. Parks issued a statement saying that the placing of the new ceiling on cattle Jan. 29 will help to bring about "a fairer nationwide distribution of all grades of beef."

"An increased slaughterer subsidy offsets the increased prices which slaughterers may pay for live cattle. This enables them to pay fair prices to feeders and yet sell beef at existing ceiling prices. The subsidy at the same time is an assurance to housewives that existing retail ceilings will remain unchanged. Cattle raisers are protected by the fact that the increased subsidy to slaughterers will enable them to pay good prices for live cattle."

Parks made a point that "packers and slaughterers will all get an equal chance to buy the better

Exchangers Dine, Install Saturday

Redwood City Exchange Club will install its officers for 1945 at a dinner-dance Saturday night at Grace and Pierce's, officials reported today. An orchestra from San Francisco will play until midnight. Members and their wives are invited.

Ray Spangler will be installed as president. In an election last week, Jack Whitely was elected treasurer, replacing Henry Nissen. Edmund Scott was elected to the board of directors. Ed Zwierlein, past president of the local club, will install the officers.

grades of cattle because it will be a violation of OPA regulations to pay more than ceiling.

A spokesman for the War Food Administration said he doubted any slowdown by slaughter houses accounted for the butcher shop closings; cattle slaughter records in California set an all month high from August to December, he said, and there is no sign of an abatement.

New Industrial Development In Redwood City Planned

Postwar development of industrial lands east of Redwood City was given impetus this week as the Redwood City Council authorized negotiations for a spur track right-of-way at Chestnut St. and Bay Rd.

The proposed spur track will take off from the Chestnut St. track, cut through the northwest corner of a 20-acre tract owned by Roes H. Chamberlain, Ltd., and continue for 1200 feet down Bay Rd.

It is the right-of-way through the Chamberlain property that the council is seeking to obtain.

Contract for the right-of-way, as approved by the council Monday night, calls for a 10-year option on approximately 11,250 square feet.

A. W. Jordan Elected Holy Name Society Head

A. W. Jordan was elected president of the Mount Carmel Holy Name Society Sunday following their quarterly communion and breakfast. The Rev. Mr. Lydon of St. Patrick's Seminary, Menlo Park, spoke on "The Canon Law of the Church."

Other officers for 1945 are John Kenneally, vice president; Ed Lawlor, secretary; Milton Adams, treasurer and Guido Simoni, marshal.

Factors in the situation, he averred, consist of: 1. The army's consumption of utility beef since Jan. 7 has been 60 per cent of local supply; 2. During the latter part of 1944 between 50 and 60 per cent of all beef was set aside for the military; 3. Hog slaughter is sharply down, with 45 per cent going to the army; 4. Other western districts—also hard pressed—have tapped the Northern California sources; 5.

Given Jail Leave To Get Married

Edward Lee Sands, 27, a merchant seaman, last week was sentenced to six months in the county jail here by Municipal Judge Francis W. Murphy in San Mateo for petty theft.

Monday, Vivian D. Mitchell, 31, a WAC, got a furlough.

The couple persuaded Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore to allow Sands freedom long enough to go across the street from the jail to the clerk's office for a marriage license and up to Justice of the Peace Edward I. McLaughlin's office for the marriage ceremony.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony, Moore, who accompanied the couple on their tour, marched Sands back to jail and the new Mrs. Sands went her way.

Sands listed this as his third marriage, the bride as her fourth.

Meat Dealers Hit by Severe Shortage

One Redwood City meat market is being driven out of business and nearly every other market in this area faces possible closure as the critical meat shortage gripping the entire Peninsula continues, it was learned today. All but two Redwood City markets contacted today have had no meat deliveries since last week and the situation is becoming increasingly tense.

A variety of reasons were given this morning for the failure of deliveries from Swift and Armour Companies to arrive. Jimmy Beltramo of the Victoria Market announced today that he would be forced to close his meat department in the near future, because of the shortage. "The situation is terrible," he said, "and I have only a few frankfurters on hand."

At Territo's Market, the situation was bright in contrast. Butcher Emil Forst reported that a supply of beef, veal and lamb had arrived this morning although no deliveries had been made since last Friday. He explained that the packers refused to purchase meat because the OPA ceilings did not give them enough of a profit.

"We have enough meat for half a dozen people," Hohn's Market said after explaining that they had received no supplies for a week.

"The slaughter houses refuse to purchase meat when they know they will lose money on the entire deal," was the reason given for the shortage in this area.

Hallett's Market reported that its reserves were "zero" and that last Thursday they received a supply of meat which lasted for two hours.

"A small amount may be delivered today," one butcher said, "but we were given to understand that the manpower problems at the wholesaler's was responsible for shortage. Last week Swift reported that 20 men came to work on a shift that employed 200."

Popular Meat Market received a small supply of lamb and veal this morning for the first time since Thursday, but reported that beef was scarce.

Seaman 1/c Richard C. Thorn, 22, of Redwood City, was reported missing in action today by the Navy Department. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. August C. Thorn Sr. of 1028 Hudson St. were informed that their son was missing in a telegram received Dec. 3. No word about him has been received since, his mother said this morning.

Thorn was a gunner's mate and was somewhere in the South Pacific when reported missing. He has been in the navy since February, 1942, and was employed by the Health Welding Co. prior to entering the service. Seaman Thorn attended Sequoia High School and is one of three Thorn sons who wear the navy blue. A fourth son, Don Thorn, is a junior at Sequoia.

Sgt. H. Cunha Wins Purple Heart

Wounded by shrapnel from a German 88 mm. shell as his field artillery unit pounded the enemy in the battle for Wurm, Germany, Sgt. Harold J. Cunha, 28, of Redwood City, is recovering at the army's 162nd General Hospital in England. He has been awarded the Purple Heart.

His ward surgeon, Capt. Herbert G. Barak of Kalamazoo, Mich., said "Sgt. Cunha's condition is very satisfactory. He will go back to duty shortly, after two weeks in the rehabilitation section of the hospital."

Section leader for the 105 mm. guns, Cunha was hit in the left shoulder and right hand by flying shrapnel when a German 88 mm. shell struck a building near the American gun position.

After being wounded, he made his way to the battalion aid station. He was operated upon in an evacuation hospital for the removal of shrapnel and was later flown to England.

His wife, Mrs. Stella Cunha lives in Redwood City. He is the son of Mrs. Mamie G. Cunha of Half Moon Bay, and he entered the army in December, 1942.

Legal Entanglements Top Council Session

Redwood City Councilmen Monday instructed City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy to seek an opinion from the state attorney general regarding Section 77 of the city charter after it appeared that the effect of McCarthy's recent ruling would not end with the resignation of Henry Witte as chairman of the planning commission.

At the suggestion of Councilman Harold F. Anderson chairman of a three-man committee appointed to meet with Witte, the matter will be submitted to Atty. Gen. Robert W. Kenny for clarification, since McCarthy's ruling, which holds that a member of a city commission cannot participate in city business without violating the charter, is in conflict with an earlier ruling by the late Albert Mansfield, former city attorney.

Meanwhile, the terse resignation of Edward M. Allen, employee of the city park department, as a member of the planning commission was accepted by the council.

Allen, whose term on the commission would have expired in June, gave no reason for his action in his letter, although his name had previously been mentioned in connection with the legality of a city employee's serving as a member of the planning commission. No ruling had been made by the city attorney on that issue.

Still another member of the planning commission, Charles Randlett, executive representative of the city engineering department, was under fire from the council when Mayor W. W. Hilton questioned the city engineer's sending a representative to attend the meetings rather than attend himself.

City Mgr. Robert W. Mead came to Randlett's defense, declaring that Attorney McCarthy had upheld the attendance of an assistant when the department head is unable to be present.

Mead pointed out that Randlett is assistant to Acting City Eng. R. J. Clarke, and has attended meetings of the commission in addition to his regular duties. Clarke, he said, was unable to attend because of ill health.

Following Anderson's report on his meeting with Witte, in which he explained that the other members of the committee—E. A. Fletcher and Floyd Granger, had agreed to Anderson's making a personal visit to Witte as representative of the council, Granger said the issue had brought "considerable political band riding."

Defending his action of raising the question by asking McCarthy for the opinion which led to Witte's resignation, Granger said, "I can agree that the situation was not followed up with diplomacy. We can all agree the question submitted was in order, but when one of the councilmen saw fit to request of me as to whom the city attorney might use as an example, that was when it was poorly handled."

"When the council agrees to meet on off Mondays and talk over situations of this type, personalities at an official meeting will be a thing of the past," he declared.

"If you think I'm doing any political band riding, Floyd, you're badly mistaken," Fletcher quickly retorted to the statement.

In reply to Granger's statement that the matter should have been brought up in a caucus meeting, Fletcher replied, "I'm against a caucus—the public is entitled to know everything we do."

"We certainly must be the ones who 'bungled the ball,'" Fletcher then said in suggesting a statement of apology be sent to Witte.

"I won't say that I did," answered Granger.

"I think we all did to a certain extent," stated Fletcher.

Continued Granger, "I don't see where I made an error... I don't intend to back up on my opinion of the charter." He explained he would endorse Witte's services twice.

When a vote was taken, endorsing a statement to be sent to Witte, the council unanimously regretted that their action resulted as it did.

Ferris W. Miles, past president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce and businessman, told the councilmen he was interested in a clarification of Section 77 in that "I, for one, who has served on committees and who would like to do business with the city, would be

Waste Paper Drive Plans Completed

Organization of the January waste paper salvage collection in Redwood City was completed this week. F. A. DePatta, city salvage chairman, announced that the Computer's Club had voted to cooperate and has been assigned the same collection district it handled in the fall campaign.

DePatta stressed the fact that householders should bundle the paper securely and place it on the sidewalks by noon Saturday.

The city has been divided into approximately equal districts, and collection crews will start work Saturday afternoon and continue Sunday.

"If it rains," DePatta warned, "the collection is off and the paper should be placed under cover until new collection dates are announced."

The participating organizations are the Kiwanis Club, Exchange Club, Lions Club, American Legion, Commuters Club, and the Mormon Church.

KEEP WELL KEEP WARM

WARD OFF WINTER COLDS—
but don't WASTE fuel

PUT YOUR FINGER DOWN ON THIS SABOTEUR OF HEALTH... Keep on top of the "flu" germ this winter. He is going about nipping folks these cold and wet wintry days. Don't let him sabotage your health and cost you time and money on your important job these war days.

When you go out of doors this winter—dress in warm, dry, weather-type clothing. But if you should come home cold and wet, change at once to warm dry clothing. At the first symptom of a cold, doctor-up and climb into bed. Get the advice of a nurse or doctor and get well and keep well.

It would be a good idea, too, to see that your home heating equipment is working efficiently and economically. Use heat wisely. Do not overheat and waste fuel. Keep windows and doors and fireplace openings closed to prevent heat loss.

Supervisors Approve 24-Hour County Ambulance Service

Establishment of a 24-hour county ambulance service recommended five months ago by County Executive Frederick Peterson and a citizens' committee was approved Tuesday by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame, who moved that Peterson's recommendation be accepted, declared that "this has been coming up for the past year. It's time we take some action on it. Everybody is complaining about it."

Peterson today submitted an estimate made by Dr. Charles C. Gans, director of the health and welfare department, that $11,275 would be needed to carry out the ambulance service for the remainder of the fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Dr. Gans based his estimate on the need for five driver-attendants at $200 a month, $25 a month additional remuneration for the captain, one extra telephone operator at $130 a month, purchase of one additional ambulance at $4500, two two-way radios at $350 each, and incidentals.

The ambulance now in service at Community Hospital will make up the second unit, Dr. Gans said.

Tuesday's action follows on the heels of a complaint Monday by the California Highway Patrol that a county-operated ambulance failed to arrive at the scene of a serious traffic crash in the north end of the county yesterday until more than an hour after the accident. Three persons were killed in the crash. Two of them died in South San Francisco Hospital.

Peterson recommended the 24-hour service to the board last Aug. 11 following a meeting of a citizens' committee. The long fight for better ambulance service started in 1939 by the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce when this body pointed out that the City of Burlingame was without ambulance service. The matter then was taken up by the Three Cities and later the plan was to include the entire county.

Dr. Gans has been in accord with the plan to establish a 24-hour ambulance service and declared he was willing to install the service if the funds were appropriated.

Peterson renewed his request to the board for action on the matter last week when he declared: "I feel sufficient time has elapsed to allow your decision in the matter and that your early legislative action is imperative."

City Council Denies Building Permit

The Church of Christ was denied a permit to construct a church building 41½ feet wide on a 50-foot lot at the corner of Hudson and Katherine Sts. Monday night by the Redwood City Council which unanimously agreed that the church must abide by the building ordinance.

According to the ordinance, width of the building must be confined to 70 per cent or 35 feet of the 50-foot frontage.

The Rev. William E. Irvine of the Church of Christ appeared before the council to request a special permit for the additional width, explaining that his church had employed an architect to draw up plans for a new building.

During the discussion of the permit request, Councilman E. A. Fletcher said the council should encourage the building of churches in Redwood City.

A letter from John Roselli, praising Chief Mark E. Ryan, and the Redwood City Fire Dept., for their efficiency in extinguishing a recent fire in the Lock Drug Store, was read at the council.

Man Jailed Here On Assault Charge

A railroad man was in the county jail here Monday booked for assault with a deadly weapon and attempted rape after he assertedly severely beat a woman yard clerk at the Southern Pacific yards just inside the north limits of San Mateo County early Sunday morning.

The man, Thomas J. McDonald, 22, San Francisco, employed by the Santa Fe Railway Co., also will be charged with burglary, Dep. Sheriff Thomas F. Maloney said.

McDonald went to the Southern Pacific yards at 1:30 a.m. Sunday and broke into the police office where he opened four lockers in search of a gun, Maloney said. He took a blackjack, a foot-long piece of iron and a spring with lead on the end of it.

McDonald then went into the yard, where he hit Mrs. Barbara Robinson, 42, yard clerk, on the head with the spring and lead and knocked her down, Maloney said. McDonald admitted breaking into the office in search of a gun but denied attempting to rape Mrs. Robinson, Maloney added.

Southern Pacific policemen, responding to Mrs. Robinson's screams, fired two shots over McDonald's head and he ran into two other policemen.

Mrs. Robinson was in a serious condition at Southern Pacific Hospital.

Hog Ranches Face Closing

Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan Tuesday informed the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors he is citing 20 owners of commercial hog ranches in the north end of the county "to clean up or else," declaring court action would be taken if they do not abide by the county health ordinance.

At the same time, Sullivan declared "the whole thing could be cleaned up if San Francisco would refuse to take hogs from ranches without permits."

None of the commercial ranchers have permits to operate, he said. The license fee is $250 a year. Permits cannot be issued until the health department approves, and health inspectors have declared they would not approve until the ranches are in a sanitary condition.

Either civil or criminal action can be taken against the hog owners if they fail to clean up their premises, Sullivan said.

Sullivan pointed out that the ordinance controlling hog ranches was drawn up at the request of hog ranchers themselves because San Francisco refused to take their hogs from ranches without permits to operate.

"Then, after the ordinance is adopted, the ranchers ignore the provisions of the ordinance," Sullivan said.

Supervisor Chmn. Fred E. Beer said the way to bring the matter to

Lingenfelter Admits $8800 S.M. Theft

Frank Lingenfelter Monday pleaded guilty to taking $8800 from Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo while he was working there as a night clerk and Superior Court Judge Maxwell McNutt sentenced him to San Quentin Prison for term prescribed by law.

Lingenfelter has served terms in San Quentin and Folsom on two prior convictions. He was arrested in the East and returned here to face the grand theft charge.

A head would be to bring suit against offenders.

"Take it into court and abate the nuisance," Beer declared.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey declared it is up to the health department to see that the ordinance is carried out.

GARDEN: California Soil Good, Not Miraculous

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Newcomers to California sometimes expect too much production. This is a wonderful land as every native son will assure you, but there are certain limitations which the genetics of plant life place on gardening, and which would hold true in paradise and—yes, even in California.

And remember too, that California isn't responsible for some of the things that happen here. An hibiscus couldn't stand up to that cold weather thrust upon us several weeks ago. Neither here, nor in Hawaii, nor in Paradise.

But just think of this: that cold weather wasn't generated here in this sunny clime. It was blown down on us from the north, and this state can't be blamed for it and neither may the natives. They didn't like it any better than the rest of us.

Newcomers are apt to think that once they get to California, they can throw caution and experience to the balmy breeze and still get good reproduction from their victory gardens. And almost, they can—but not quite.

Sometimes they try to pin you back with a line of logic like this: Root crops are considered hardy crops here, aren't they? (YES, most of them, but—). And carrots are a root vegetable, are they not? (YES, they are seldom grown for that foliage.) Then WHY do you advise waiting until February to plant carrots? Won't they take it? ("It" meaning January in Central California.)

Well, of course carrots will take it. You can plant carrots day or night through January and they'll probably grow into the best carrots you ever tasted, but they won't do it fast enough to pay. Carrots you plant in February will mature just as fast as those you plant now, so why not use January to plant the things which benefit by the earlier dating?

Cabbage for instance. Why California grows such wonderful cabbage that it's shipped back East. It prefers a bit cooler temperature than we expect in June, so it's smart to plant the cabbage immediately and get it out before warm (but wonderful) weather.

And the Slow Bolting Flat Dutch Cabbage, which doesn't have C.O. (Cooking Odor), was originated in this state. What's more you can plant it in flats now and transplant in about 35-40 days.

But if you don't plant the woody things—rose bushes, shrubs, vines and deciduous and evergreen trees now, you lessen your chances for full growth the first season. So why not fast things first? Every carrot counts, but you can count on just as well when they're grown faster.

You can't grow California oranges in Virginia, but you can certainly grow Virginia stock to perfection in California, if you plant it right now. The plant is an annual and does itself proud in almost any border with its compact growth habits. If you plant Virginia stock now, again February and at intervals through the Spring, Summer and Fall, you can have these flowers practically all year round. You can't do that in Virginia, nor West Virginia either!

Don't confuse Virginia stock which grows no higher than six or eight inches, even here, with ordinary stock, such as the Perfection and Nice strains. Although these are annuals in most parts of the country, they're considered practically perennial in California. You can plant them now for summer blooms, and in Spring for fall flowers, and in Fall for winter flowering.

And it's getting so you can find sweet peas especially adapted for planting or flowering at any desired time. Is there a garden in the world that wouldn't have room for a row of sweet peas? I think not. And is there a garden anywhere that wouldn't benefit with this addition. I'm sure not.

Collins Addresses R.C. Bus Employees

Transportation problems and suggestions for overcoming them high-lighted the discussion this week of the Redwood City Bus Line employees who held their meeting and banquet at Sodini's. Police Chief C. L. Collins addressed the group and commented on the similar public service aspects of the bus company and the police department.

Everyone took part in the general discussion and each driver contributed his ideas about difficulties to be overcome each day. They also offered suggestions for better service. George Scoring of Redwood City and Safety Engineer Field from San Francisco attended the meeting.

Omar Khayyam was an astronomer and mathematician as well as a poet.

John A. Cunha of Half Moon Bay, who died Nov. 6, 1944, left an estate valued at $36,518.80. Appraiser Bradford M. Melvin reported today. The estate consists of real property near Half Moon Bay and approximately $7000 in cash. Joseph H. Cunha is administrator of the estate.

Old Symbol

The cross was used as a religious symbol long before the Christian era. The Indians regarded it as a mystic emblem of the four points of the compass.

Mrs. B. F. Dimmitt Leaves $10,000 Estate

Mrs. Bee Fox Dimmitt, who died Nov. 24, 1944, at the age of 64, left an estate valued at $10,000. It was reported today when a petition for letters of administration was filed in superior court here. Mrs. Dimmitt was the widow of Charles L. Dimmitt, who was city manager of Redwood City, at the time of his death July 26, 1942.

The petition was filed by Mrs. Dimmitt's daughter, June Lee Houston of San Diego, and Pierce Coombes, attorney, who asked that Coombes be appointed administrator.

News of Commuters

BY LOCOMOTIVE BILL

Here we go again. Joe (good ole Joe) has been ordered by his employers to go back to work or else... you see Caboose, who is a willing sort of a fellow, after a fashion, has been taking it rather easy during recent months but the inevitable happened as always and Joe must now earn the living for himself, Mrs. Caboose and the little Caboosees... All of which makes it necessary for our favorite columnist to forego writing this column for a short time or until Caboose has sufficiently absorbed enough night and day work to permit him to get back into his accustomed way of life... In the interim, and until such time as Joe is again able to put forth with those fine literary essays of his, "Locomotive" will endeavor to carry on with his slant on the doings of the commuters.

On Thursday, Jan. 11 forty-six commuters gathered at the Redwood City Woman's Club for their monthly dinner meeting to listen to a speaker from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Vasily Demchenko, secretary consulate general. Demchenko told his listeners that he was of the new generation of Russians and that his government was only twenty-seven years old. He traced the development of Russia from a backward nation prior to the revolution to one of the leading countries in the world today. Demchenko said "This was brought about through the organization of the peasants into co-operatives for the development of agriculture and by providing for the industrial development of the country through the building of factories and otherwise preparing generally for the next war which they felt was sure to come."

Navy Captures R.C. Sailor Again

A Redwood City sailor, Henry James Lopez, was unsuccessful in his third attempt to elude the navy this week when shore patrolmen from Tanforan, accompanied by Redwood City Police Officers Cole Stafford and Ted Moudakas found the 20-year-old apprentice seaman at his home, 541 Middlefield Rd. Lopez, now being held at Tanforan as an escaped prisoner, came to Redwood City Monday from San Pedro where he had been awaiting military action because of his previous waywardness, naval officials said.

After leaving his San Pedro naval station Nov. 17, he was picked up by Redwood City police, Dec. 8, who found Lopez huddled behind a cheerfield at his home.

While awaiting return to San Diego, Lopez left the detention barracks at Tanforan Dec. 15, only to be discovered hiding behind a radio at 615 Bradford St., a day later. Police officers, acting on a "tip," took Lopez by surprise Tuesday at 8 p.m., they said. Attired in his uniform, Lopez was met by awaiting military and civilian police when he entered the living room to investigate the callers.

His blonde wife and 14-month-old son were with him at the time of his arrest, officers declared. Lopez was indicted Oct. 16, 1943, from Redwood City Selective Service reported today.

He will be returned to San Pedro to face charges of breaking arrest.

Fitzgerald Wins Reward for Arrest

Emerald Lake Police Officer D. W. Fitzgerald has been awarded the standing reward of $25 by the Highlands District Improvement Assn. for information leading to the arrest and conviction of H. E. Wakefield of Redwood City, who recently paid a $25 fine for dumping garbage. H. Hoffman Price, president, said today.

Wakefield pleaded guilty to the charge of dumping garbage last week. Price pointed out that any resident having information that would identify a garbage dumper should forward the information to H. E. Fitzgerald who will carry on the investigation, and the informer, while eligible for the reward, will not be publicized.

J. R. Bozeman, Stuart W. Copps and Elaine Buckland, newly appointed building codes and zoning committee for the association, are working on a plan to obtain effective enforcement of building restrictions in that area. Price said. The committee will check on the laxity which has come in under the guise for wartime emergency, he declared.

This he contended was obtained through the unity of the people who were willing to sacrifice everything so that Russia could be a strong power. He stated that when Hitler invaded Russia he counted on a split of the various nations making up the Soviet Union of which there are seventy different nationalities, further that Germany's victory would occur within a short period of time.

"Instead, all peoples in Russia," Demchenko said, "became united into one state and sent their sons to fight for liberty and independence." This welding of nationalities together, he stated, was responsible for their success in this war. He also told his listeners that credit must be given to the United States and Great Britain for their military and lend lease assistance to Russia without which success in the war would be impossible.

Highlight of the meeting: Roy Sprawl, sweet singer of songs, pianist extraordinary, radio entertainer and Commuter Club member entertaining the boys with one of his own compositions... Jack Fox and his famous smile attending a meeting for the first time... ditto Frank Brady, the well known insurance executive... Walter Shugert, cubmaster of the club-sponsored cub pack enjoying the proceedings... Frank Louisa, San Francisco's leading furrier telling everyone how glad he was to be with the gang once more...

Charlie Woodman looking fit after a recent illness... Elmer Ross interrogating the speaker in his fine basso voice... Charles Wilcox acknowledging the cheers on his introduction as a new member... Bill Curran, the greeter, nervously hopping hither and thither greeting new and old members in his own inimitable style... Paul McCarthy, city attorney, leaving the meeting without his cigarette case (including the cigarettes)... Mac McClellan, program chairman, answering questions on Russia with the greatest of ease... Albert Morgan Jr. expressing his thanks to the club for its support and to the Dorothy Roberts' kiddies for the fine show put on at the Christmas party for the cubs and scouts...

Stanley Perkins' expert handling of the meeting... T. Walter Cutting modestly acknowledging the congratulations of his friends on his election as vice president of the Sales Managers Assn. in San Francisco.

Train gossip: Who was the ex-commuter president who fell asleep on the Redwood City bus going home the other evening and didn't awaken until the bus had nearly reached the end of the line, many blocks from his home? All answers kept confidential... Al Armitage was seen with a bottle of vitamin pills the other morning shortly after returning from a strenuous New York City trip... must be a reason, says "Locomotive." Chester

Eye-opener recipes

RICE CAKES

3 eggs
3 cups cooked rice
Salt

Pepper
Shortening

Beat eggs slightly; add rice; season with salt and pepper to taste; mix with fork. Melt shortening in moderately hot frying pan; drop rice mixture into hot shortening by tablespoonfuls; fry until golden brown turning once. Serve with heated syrup. Makes 12 small or 6 large cakes.

FRIED MUSH

4 cups water
1 tsp. salt

1 cup corn meal

Bring water to boil in top of double boiler over direct heat.

Add salt. Add corn meal gradually, stirring constantly. Cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

Place over boiling water; cover. Cook 30 to 40 minutes.

Pour in dampened mold or bread pan. Let stand several hours.

Unmold and slice in ½-inch-thick slices.

Fry in hot shortening until golden brown. Serve with syrup. Serves 6 to 8.

LITTLE HINTS FOR EASY BREAKFASTS

Cereals may be measured out the night before, ready to cook upon the addition of water. When cooked in milk they have added nutritional value as well as a different flavor.

Using brown sugar instead of white on cereals gives them a new flavor. Molasses for sweetening is very good, and if eggs are scarce, it helps make up for the iron we would normally get from them.

A crispness and added flavor is given to ready-to-serve cereals if heated in a moderate oven (375° F.) a few minutes before serving.

J-M Smokestack By Jim Asbestos

WHY THEY'RE A PANORAMIC DIARY OF EMPLOYEE LIFE AT J-M IN 1944

Skimming 1944 With J-M News Pic

Twice a month Johns-Manville publishes a picture magazine, NEWS PICTORIAL, for its 14,000 employees, who call it News Pic for short. About 2,500 copies of each issue are sent to former employees in the armed services.

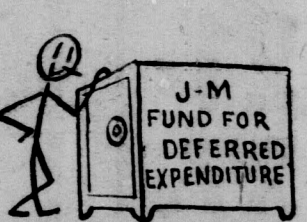

Skimming through News Pic issues of 1944, the following items pop out:

January 1 Issue—Rear Admiral Ramsey tells of value of J-M materials in patrol bombers which sink Nazi subs in Atlantic... Captured Nazi equipment exhibited at J-M Manville (N. J.) factory.

January 15—New diner opened at Jarratt (Va.) J-M factory... Mr. and Mrs. George Rostron of Manville boast seven sons in the fighting services.

March 1—Post-war jobs assured by $10 million Fund for Deferred Expenditure announced by Lewis H. Brown, J-M president.

THIS IS TO HELP INSURE JOBS FOR J-M EMPLOYEES AFTER THE WAR

April 1—First white star for continued excellence in war production to J-M Manville plant... Second star to J-M-operated Kansas Ordnance Plant.

May 1—Anna Taylor, sewing machine operator at J-M Pittsburg (Cal.) plant, helps ease war manpower shortage by pinch-hitting for ill night watchman.

May 15—Army lieutenant from India writes for J-M catalog to help him plan post-war home.

August 1—Midyear report to jobholders by Lewis H. Brown, president, shows war production hampered by shortage of more than 1,000 workers.

August 15—Lompoc (Cal.) J-M plant gets a star on its "E" pennant.

September 1—Blood donations at Waukegan (Ill.) J-M plant reach 1,335 pints. Kansas Ordnance Plant announces salvage of 600,000 pounds of scrap paper a month.

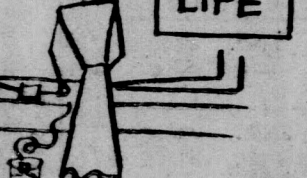

September 15—Waukegan plant breaks records, producing asbestos pipe felt for Texas-to-West Virginia gas pipeline.

October 1—J-M plants snowed under with orders for materials to repair hurricane housing damage on Atlantic seaboard... Kansas Ordnance Plant gets third "E" star.

December 1—Wright Field reveals important part J-M materials play in B-29's that bomb Tokyo.

December 15—Manville plant gets second "E" star. News Pic sponsors plan to "Give a Serviceman His Life for Christmas" through making blood donation.

TAKE A PINT FOR MY PALS AT THE FRONT

Of course there were hundreds of other items and pictures about J-M people, parties, jobs, marriages, babies, employees in service (now 4,518) and deaths in service (61) — a kaleidoscope of life in a big industrial family in 18 plant and mine locations and over 70 offices, all busy mostly on war work, all over the U. S.
